Did You Know?

EDA is pleased to announce that it has redesigned its Regional Innovation Strategies (RIS) program. With a 40 percent budget increase and recent reauthorization, the new program is called Build to Scale (B2S), which builds regional economies through scalable startups. The modernized brand better reflects the spirit of the entrepreneurship communities it works to serve.

Available Resources

The Center for Optimizing Rural Health (CORH) provides technical assistance to help rural hospitals deliver the care that's needed most with the available resources. CORH is working with hospitals, communities, partners, and other stakeholders to design and implement evidence-based, unique, and sustainable solutions to remove the barriers that prevent many communities from accessing quality health care.
